The Anndore House is steps from Toronto's main artery of Yonge Street, and near the vibrant culture of Bloor St., Yorkville and downtown. Smack-dab in Toronto's core, the neighbourhood is alive with energy. Parks, fitness studios, galleries, theatres, live music, boutiques and nightlife are all just a short stroll away.

THE ANNDORE HOUSE

Our History

Originally built as a residence hotel, The Anndore House was home to many of Toronto's most eccentric personalities and famous faces. Today, it is a fusion of its quirky past and modern style.

The room interior design was done by Cecconi Simone Inc., and is a multi-disciplinary interior-design practice based in Toronto, Canada, privately owned and operated by Elaine Cecconi and Anna Simone.

Studio Munge, a fresh iteration of Italian designer Alessandro Munge's, provided the interior design for the dining and public spaces. Fueled by a singular vision to create unforgettable design experiences, they have cultivated award-winning projects based on partnerships with the world's preeminent hotel and restaurant groups.
